Virtual Summit

Reducing the Risk of Device Misconnections

Education & Awareness on ENFit

March 30, 2021 at 1:00 - 2:15PM ET

WHAT YOU'LL LEARN

The history of ISO-80639 standards and how these standards protect patients

The importance of enteral standards

What changes you need to know about as you're considering a conversion

How other healthcare institutions made the transition to ENFit

How GEDSA can help get your institution started on its path to conversion

The demands of the COVID-19 pandemic have raised the stakes for patient safety. Adoption of ISO-standard devices, including enteral feeding devices (ENFit), can be an important step in protecting patients from misconnection errors during this critical time.

Join us for a FREE virtual webinar summit lead by Global Enteral Device Suppliers Association (GEDSA), a nonprofit organization formed to help introduce international standards for healthcare tubing connectors. GEDSA has guided many hospitals through the transition and has learned first-hand how to make a smooth transition.

We will have clinical experts attending who can help answer questions that you have about converting to ENFit.
